

I want to be a web developer at Purple Circle_

Web developer Role definition

Location

The role is in our Nottingham Studio

What's it all about?

In a nutshell

You'll be working with a world class design team, helping them shape the specification and subsequently building brilliant working websites - With technical partners for back end and e-commerce if required.

Essentials

- We are NOT looking for a wannabe web designer
- You must have a really positive attitude
- You must be able to explain techy things in really simple terms to non technical people
- You should be Mac and PC literate including the following software: Dreamweaver, Modx, LMLP and Wordpress
- You will have built sites that utilise great SEO skills and social media elements
- You will be able to work within PHP and Java
- You will have a great attention to detail combined with great team skills
- You mustn't be a twat, but you can be a bit geeky - in fact we'd like that

What will you do?

Our graphic design and branding work wins us many awards, mainly in an offline world. This will be our first appointment for someone to develop our online presence. The role will involve:

- Redeveloping our own site(s) to be more SEO friendly, and embed our various social media presences
- Work closely with designers, artworkers and freelancers to help develop our clients online offerings
- Understand and organise hosting and site management requirements
- Translate a great web design and build amazingly slick HTML from it, so it works as well as it looks
- Embed social media elements such as Twitter feeds into clients websites
- Develop sites from scratch using open source products
- Ensure all work is completed by the required deadline
- Make amendments to existing sites quickly and accurately
- Assist Designers and Project Managers in delivering great work
- Use our database systems to help ensure the smooth running of projects
- Assist the Studio Manager in archiving and cataloguing completed work
- Liaise with clients and suppliers as required

And finally

Understand our business and want to be a growing part of it

Purple Circle Ambassador
